This work exists because of the courage of those who served including Michael and we offer a heartfelt thank-you for the sacrifices made in defense of the freedoms that allow every voice to be heard, every story to be written, and every truth to be printed.

We honor you.

Our Walking Warriors

A creative sanctuary for those who have served.

Walking Warriors welcomes every branch, every era, and every story.

Its a space where veterans and active-duty members can explore writing, art, and storytelling as a way to reclaim voice and imagination.

Here, silence isnt required creativity is.
Participants can share truth, fiction, or something in between; they can be as visible or as incognito as they choose.

Through guided workshops, story-reclamation projects, and collaborative anthologies, Walking Warriors helps transform experience into expression not therapy, but testimony through creation.

This program honors service, memory, and imagination side by side, offering a place to land, to breathe, and to build new worlds from old stories.

Every Creature Comes With Its Own Story

Each resin creation arrives with a Certificate of Authenticity, signed and sealed from the realm. Every creature reveals a unique name - chosen not by the artist, but whispered by the being itself as it emerges.

Along with its name, you'll receive a small lore fragment, a tale shared with the Mythmaker at the moment of its hatching. No two stories are ever the same. No two creatures share a destiny.

Your guardian, axolotl, fish, or portal isn't just crafted - it's born.
